

LOOKING BACK,
WITHIN AND AHEAD
Celebrating Indigenous Wisdom

INSTRUCTOR

SUSANTH C S

Susanth C S is a Principal Designer at National Institute of Design, Bangalore, India. He served as a faculty member in Furniture & Interior Design during 2002 to 2005 in NID Ahmedabad Campus and in 2007 he started an M. Des programme called Design for Retail Experience at NID Bangalore.

cssusanth@nid.edu

CO INSTRUCTOR

RAJEEV V K

OE2322

“WHEN BAMBOO MEETS LEATHER”, RE-IMAGINING IN ITS NEW CONTEXT EXPERIENCE

OVERVIEW

Bamboo and Leather are very distinct material with different properties and characters. Nimmalakunta (Andhra Pradesh) is famous for its leather puppetry crafts. This have got beautiful characters painted on leather forms to crate stories. While bamboo is now very common and most discussed raw material among designers, architects, and engineers with its various applications. These different qualities of both crafts combine we can unfold a wonderful possibility that can create a new dimension of experiences. Products that tell stories, expressions, vibrant colours, and so on. This workshop will re-imagine these two materials in new context of lifestyle with its value.

METHODOLOGY

Field visits (travel to Nimmalakunta)

Explorations, presentations, Discussions,
Product making, Documentation

KEY WORDS

Bamboo, Leather, Craft,
Tradition, Experience

AVAILABILITY

20 Seats