

INSTRUCTOR

Dr. LOPAMUDRA MAITRA BAJPAI

Presently- Senior Researcher- Centre for Studies in Legal History (NUJS, Kolkata)

- Anthropologist, author, columnist.
- Research, work and teach- narratives, popular culture, communication and history of India and South Asia.
- 4 books (Routledge, UK and Aleph Book Company- Rupa Publications Ltd) and 2 more are coming out in 2023 and 2024
- More than 30 research papers.
- Represented India at SAARC, Sri Lanka and UNESCO- Intangible Cultural Heritage conferences at Sharjah (2019) and Jenjou, South Korea (2020).
- 2021, Oral History Association, USA fellowship for narratives of India paper to present at conference.

OE23D35

WATER TALES FOR A BETTER LIFE- WATER NARRATIVES FROM TRADITIONAL KNOWLEDGE SYSTEMS (TKS) SUSTAINABILITY AND ARCHITECTURAL PRACTICES

OVERVIEW

Water is basis of life on earth. We are variously indebted to it. It teaches us sustainability & environmental protection. The present set of workshop will aim to explain this through Indic TKS (Traditional Knowledge System) for better future, human settlements and environment.

- Understanding narratives of India that has helped to shape our existence, life and settlements- from very old times
- How TKS is still helping in providing a balance of life and settlements and architecture
- How TKS helps in groundwater preservation, drinking water, irrigation water conservation, etc. concepts
- Think about future design of sustainability

KEY WORDS

Water narratives, TKS, Sustainability, Design, Architecture

AVAILABILITY

15 Seats